FALL PROGRAM 2011

The Center for Group Studies was founded in 1989 to provide training in group leadership for professionals in the fields of mental health, business, education, religion and the arts. Our AGPA award winning training programs offer a practical education designed around the principles and techniques of Louis R. Ormont PhD., an international leader in group therapy. The class format utilizes traditional didactic approaches combined with an immersion in the experiential group process. Our certificate programs satisfy the coursework requirements for application to the American Group Psychotherapy Association for the Certified Group Psychotherapist credential.

FALL CALENDAR

The workshop programs begin September 15th. Unless otherwise specified, workshops meet for I-1/2 hours.

FALL OFFERINGS

Core Course 1A – Modern Group Theory and Method 1
Core Course 1B – Modern Group Leadership 1

CLASS SCHEDULE

Modern Group Theory and Method 1

This two semester course uses didactic and experiential learning to study Modern Group theory and technique. The focus is on specific methods utilizing the group as the agent of change to promote immediacy of experience and progressive emotional communication among members. Other important concepts include; fostering transient identification, cultivating the observing ego, strengthening the insulation barrier, joining resistances, and a variety of bridging techniques to foster meaningful emotional engagement.
